Sheehy Mail Contractors, Inc. honored with U.S EPA 2017 SmartWay® Excellence Award for innovations with CNG fuel technology

(Waterloo, Wis., Oct. 31, 2017) – Last week, Sheehy Mail Contractors, Inc. (SMCI) was honored with a U.S Environmental Protection Agency SmartWay Excellence Award for being an industry leader in freight supply chain environmental performance and energy efficiency.

Currently, 92% of SMCI's truck fleet operates solely on compressed natural gas (CNG) fuel since the trucks were implemented in 2013. To fuel our trucks, SMCI uses a variety of different CNG fuel stations across the country already having purchased more than 1.9 million gallons of fuel so far in 2017.

"Sheehy has worked hard with our customers to provide an environmentally sustainable service and the SmartWay award validates the hard work we have done to accomplish this goal", said John Sheehy, CEO of Sheehy Enterprises.

SMCI was one of 62 companies in the U.S to receive this distinction, representing the best environmental performers of SmartWay's 3,600 Partners. The Excellence Awardees were honored at the American Trucking Associations Management & Exhibition Annual Conference held in Orlando, Fla. on October 23, 2017.

"Since 2004, EPA and the business community have collaborated through the SmartWay Partnership to reduce the economic and environmental costs of goods movement, a vital sector of our national economy," said Christopher Grundler, Director of the EPA's Office of Transportation & Air Quality.

Aside from implementing CNG fuel in our fleet, SMCI has also been testing the use of Hydrogen in conjunction with CNG to further increase efficiency. When it comes to offering advice to other companies who desire to be like SMCI John says, "It is a process, and if a company wants to be successful with a program like this they have to stay committed to their plan. It is easy to get distracted as soon as something does not go perfectly."
